"We're gonna need a bigger boat..." Re-live the movie Jaws with this painting was created especially for a Jaws themed exhibit sponsored by PangeaSeed. The exhibit, Smile, you son of a bitch, was held at Hero Complex Gallery, in Los Angeles, CA, in November 2013 as a 25th anniversary celebration of the movie, Jaws. The text in the painting is inspired by the movie, such as one of the billboards featured in the movie. The text at the bottom, "Boat rentals: New, bigger boats available!" while not in the movie, alludes to one of the most famous lines in the movie.
